

SchoolDude and BAISCA are pleased to announce a SuccessPlus Services “Alliance Partnership” to offer facility assessment services for SchoolDude’s 6,000+ educational clients.

The partnership is structured through SchoolDude Professional Services, which provides on-site consulting services to facility and technology operations using SchoolDude’s software solutions.

Under the SuccessPlus Services Alliance Partnership, field verified data resulting from BAISCA’s building asset inventories and single component assessments will be structured to easily integrate with SchoolDude products.

What is BAISCA?

BAISCA specializes in the collection of data and the development of reports related to facility issues in school districts. We respond to a school district’s need for detailed information concerning a specific building system at multiple sites such as parking lots, classroom technology, or lockers. We then develop survey instruments, dispatch field technicians to collect data, and deliver executive level reports for decision making.

We specialize in conducting “Building Asset Inventories” and “Single Component Assessments”.

- A Building Asset is any one of the many individual items that are a physical part of a building or the site such as water fountains, flag poles, parking lots, etc.
- A Building Asset Inventory is a list of particular items associated with a building or group of buildings.
- A Single Component Assessment is an analysis of one or more values associated with a building asset such as condition, life-cycle, replacement cost, etc.

The BAISCA process is designed to be straightforward, expedient, and extremely client focused
